Exhibition

Building the Bridges to the Third World - Toni Hagen's memories of Nepal
An exhibition on the occasion of his 75th birthday

A special exhibition of photographs and objects from Toni Hagen's Nepalese collection will be held at the Wissenschaftszentrum Bonn-Bad Godesberg from 1st of July to 22nd of August 1993.

The geologist Toni Hagen was the first person to undertake geological explorations 1950-1958 (largely commissioned by the UNO) in the hitherto forbidden land Nepal. During his work he gained an intimate knowledge of the people and their problems; from 1960 to 1961 he conceived and led the successful program for integrating Tibetan refugees and helped set up their carpet industry. After 1962, Toni Hagen worked in many countries as a specialist in development for the UNO. Since then he has visited Nepal regularly and witnessed all the stages of its rapid development. Today he is still renowned as one of the best experts on Nepal.

A book comprising Toni Hagen's memories of Nepal is also available.

The exhibition is open to the public Sundays till Friday 10-17, Thursdays 10-18 and closed on Saturdays. For further information phone 0228-3029.
